

Careers Webinar March 2021

Guest Speaker Bio

Scott Young (Northumbria
Police)

Being appointed Assistant Chief Constable for Northumbria Police in October 2020, is the pinnacle of Scott's 26 year police service, during which time he has led a number of initiatives, including the roll-out of Neighbourhood Policing and serving as Divisional Commander for the City of Hull, Head of Crime and Temporary Assistant Chief Constable in Humberside.

Natasha
Hoggard
(HOP)

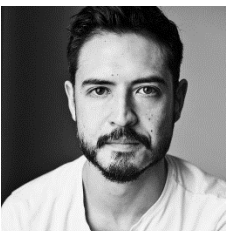

As a Psychology graduate from the University of York, Natasha has always had an interest in humans and their interactions. Combining this and her experience working with young people within both education and youth work roles, she has been able to bring a good understanding to the HOP team to help support students in realising their potential and helping them achieve their goals and progress. She is available to answer any questions to on www.hop-humber.co.uk

Sanna
Saidy
(HOP)

Born and raised in Germany but East Yorkshire by choice, Sanna has always worked with children and young adults throughout his academic and professional career. Graduating from University with a Masters in Theatre Making, he ensures he uses his creative skills to make sessions at HOP as engaging as possible. Please feel free to ask him any questions regarding interview skills or your future options and choices.

Moj
Taylor
(Push)

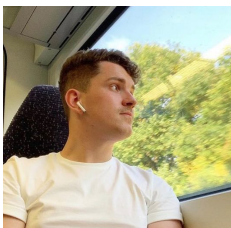

Moj is an Edinburgh Fringe First winning actor and stand-up comedian. He was the first in his family to graduate a higher education course and has featured in commercial campaigns for Asics, Nivea, Lexus and Movember, amongst many others. Moj has delivered over 3,000 workshops to teenagers across the UK via Push and ComedyClub4Kids, and is a proud ambassador for the charity Freedom from Abuse, warning children and teenagers on the dangers of county lines gangs, knife and drug crime and the realities of prison life.

Aron
Tenant
(Push)

Aron is originally from South Yorkshire and graduated with a BA from University of Sheffield and an MA from City University of London. In 2018, he came runner-up in Nickelodeon's international screenwriting competition and his short film "Donkey Tooth" was screened at the London Raindance Film Festival. Alongside his work with young people through Push, Aron continues to do screenplay work and is currently working on his own independent film and theatre projects, whilst writing articles for JumpcutOnline.com, an award winning UK publication containing the latest Film and TV reviews and features from a host of talented writers.

Kallum
(with a K)
Nicholson

Kallum (with a K) Nicholson is a self-made entrepreneur owning three retail businesses plus being a business coach for other business owners and a motivational speaker. Kallum is an ex-student of Hessle High School who has now, amongst all his endeavours, re-joined the school in the role of Governor, helping with career links at the school.

<https://jumpcutonline.co.uk/>

CAREERS

Where will your journey take you?

