

Down at the Bottom of the Garden

Joe, Beth and Frannie introduce their friend, Connie, to their magical friends in the Enchanted Forest. Connie isn't a believer in all things magic but she soon gets quite the shock when she meets the folk of the far away tree and the children discover many new lands together. The children get up to many adventures and visit some strange and intriguing lands.

In this theme we will be learning all about what we can find in nature and the world around us.

Key Vocabulary
Formal garden	A garden with a clear structure based on shapes. They are quite often symmetrical.
Domestic garden	A garden that is attached to a house or a property where people live.
Friendship boundaries	An imaginary line which marks the difference between what is acceptable or unacceptable behaviour.
Economics	Knowledge concerned with wealth and money.
Sculptor	An artist who makes sculptures.
Weather pattern	Patterns of weather that occur on a daily basis.
Clay	A stiff, sticky natural material that can be used to make sculptures.
Domestic	Things relating to your home and family.

Harlow Carr is a botanical garden in Harrogate, England.

Bees play a big part in our world but their population is declining.

Kirstenbosch is a national botanical garden in Cape Town, South Africa.

The equator is the invisible line around the middle of the Earth.

The North Pole is at the top of the world in the Arctic and the South Pole is at the bottom of the world in the Antarctic.

There are different climates around the world which means different types of weather and temperature. Certain plants will only grow in a warmer climate but others will only grow in a colder climate.

Georgia O'Keeffe was an American artist who was well known for her art with enlarged flowers. She mostly used pastel, charcoal, watercolour and oil for her pieces.

'Everyone Can Achieve the Extraordinary'